Cookie Walk Goes Virtual

The Annual Cookie Walk is one of our biggest events of the year. This year the Cookie Walk is going virtual. The Friends are asking cookie bakers and buyers to consider what they have contributed to this event in the past and to keep that tradition going!

For a minimum contribution of $20 to the Friends of HTPL, donors will receive a gift bag of cookies, tea, coffee, and five all-star recipes from our past Cookie Walks. It's a great gift for you or a great gift to share.

Virtual Cookie Walk donations accepted until December 7. Gift bag pickup from December 14-December 23. Donate online at htlibrary.org/Friends or in-person at the library.

Tales with Tails Returns

There's nothing better than showing love to a furry friend.

At 5:30 p.m. November 18, our favorite therapy dog, Bailey, is back, and she can't wait to hear some stories!

Bailey will join us again at HTPL for our Tales with Tails program, offered in a safe, socially distanced manner.

To sign your child up for a 15-minute session to read to Bailey, please call 586-329-1261 or stop by the library. Masks are required, and children will receive a free colorful dog-print disposable mask.

November 2 | 7 p.m. | Stress Relief and Sleep on Zoom

2020 has been a year of change, uncertainty, and stress for many. These factors can bring disruption of schedule and sleep. What is sleep hygiene? Learn how to use a FREE tool called MyStrength to monitor and improve sleep, mood, anxiety, stress, and much more.

November 5 | 2 p.m. | Bird Swing Craft with Patricia

Birds will sing their thanks when you build a swing for them, crafted with wire, a small sturdy twig, and adorned with beads and elements. This project can be used indoors or outdoors.

November 7 | 10:30 a.m. | Cool eStuff: MEL -- Explora for Elementary Schools

Easily search content from children's magazines, easy-to-read encyclopedia entries, and more. It's a stellar resource for report writing. If you are a student, parent, or teacher, you'll want to know about this one!

November 10 | 9 a.m.-4 p.m. | Remote Medicare Open Enrollment Counseling with MMAP

MMAP counselors will be joining the library remotely for one-on-one Medicare counseling. Set up an appointment for a phone meeting or for a Zoom meeting to get individualized help.

November 12 | 7 p.m. | Fall Harvest Soups with Organic Stepping Stones

It's time to snuggle up with the warmth and comfort of homemade soup.

November 14 | 10:30 a.m. | Get It? Got It? Good! A Super-Charged Story Time

HJPL Book Club Review

‘Mrs. Everything’ by Jennifer Weiner

In September, our book club selected ‘Mrs. Everything’ by Jennifer Weiner. It’s a multi-generational story centered around two sisters growing up in 1950s Detroit.

The book covers a variety of topics, including racism, sexism, drug abuse, LGBTQ discrimination, the Vietnam War and more.

We appreciated the social critique, but the consensus was that the book was too sprawling and tried to cover too much. We would have preferred if the scope was smaller and concentrated on a single plot line in depth. We also noticed a few editing errors in the timeline and in the references to Detroit.

Our Verdict: For a more authentic book about Detroit, we recommend the fiction title ‘Beautiful Music’ by Michael Zadoorian, which is about a music-loving teen growing up in 1970s Detroit. For a thriller set in the U.P., our book club members recommend ‘The Marsh King’s Daughter’ by Karen Dionne.

Every family has a story. Find yours.
